2. About this guide

This Financial Services Guide ('FSG') was prepared on 29 January 2024 and should help you understand and decide if you wish to use the financial services we are able to offer you.

This FSG sets out the services we provide. It tells you:

- who we are and how we can be contacted;
- what services and products we are authorised to provide to you;
- how we (and any other relevant parties) are paid; and
- how we deal with complaints.

3. Our products and services

We are authorised to provide these services and products to both retail and wholesale clients.

We are only authorised to provide general advice in relation to the class of products listed above. Please note that there is an important difference between 'general advice' and 'personal advice'. If we provide you with 'general advice' it means that we have not considered any of your individual objectives, financial situation and needs.

SERVICES

We will only provide services to you if you have made an application to open an account with us and that application has been approved by us. If you do not understand any of the information in this FSG or have any other questions relating to the terms on which we will be acting, please contact us.

In providing our services, other financial matters may arise, however, we are not authorised to assist with any financial products and services except those explained above. You should seek specific advice from the appropriate professionals on other matters relevant to you.

4. Our fees and commissions

Spreads

Fees and other charges are payable by you for our products and services. Our fees and charges are generally built into the 'spread'.

We will quote you two prices, the "bid" at which you can sell a respective contract for difference ('CFD') and the "offer" at which you can buy a respective CFD. The spread is the difference between the bid and the offer price and is the only trading cost that you have to pay for the trading part of the service. No other charges or commissions are paid by you to enter or exit a trade. Our spreads are quoted on both the mobile and web platforms and also on the website.

The spreads are dynamic due to the uncertain nature of the markets and are set at the sole discretion of the Company. Different instruments have different spreads. The spread may factor in:

- Liquidity of the product's underlying market
- General market and economic conditions
- Our risk appetite
- Our costs and profit margin
- The greater competitive landscape

You will see the spread in our platform and mobile application before you enter into a transaction with us. This can be viewed in the market information tab.

The spreads are also available on our website, specifically <https://capital.com/charges-and-fees>

FX Conversion Fees

Transactions not in your account currency including, but not limited to, commissions, profits, losses and overnight funding are converted to the account currency using the prevailing exchange rate at the time of the transaction, minus an FX conversion fee of 0.7%.

For example when considering an AUD denominated account, a profit of USD 100 would be converted to AUD157 at an exchange rate of 1.5700, with a fee of AUD 1.1 applied ($AUD157 * 0.7\%$), resulting in a total profit of AUD 155.9.

This FX conversion fee applies on a per-transaction basis.

Overnight Fees

If you hold a position open overnight,. CCAU may charge an overnight funding fee. This fee is based on the entire value of your position, and typically incorporates our admin charge, along with a risk-free adjustment..

Please note, the overnight fee varies across instruments. You can find the specific overnight fee for your chosen instruments

Employee remuneration:

All of our employees (including our sales staff) are paid a salary. They may also from time to time receive discretionary bonuses. These bonuses are calculated and awarded based on a number of different factors. We will at all times, ensure that such bonuses are fair and comply with our obligations as the holder of an AFSL.
